Furthermore, we process your data, if necessary, for the fulfillment of control and reporting obligations under tax law as well as the archiving of data for purposes of data protection and data security as well as auditing by tax and other authorities. In addition, the disclosure of personal data may become necessary in the context of official/court measures for the purpose of taking evidence, criminal prosecution or enforcement of civil claims.

In addition, there is a right of appeal to the data protection supervisory authority (Art. 77 GDPR). In principle, the right to object to the processing of personal data by us exists in accordance with Article 21 GDPR. This also applies to profiling based on this provision according to Art. 4 No. 4 GDPR. If you file an objection, we will no longer process your personal data unless we can prove compelling reasons worthy of protection for the processing which override your interests, rights and freedoms, or the processing is for the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims. We may also process your personal data to conduct direct marketing. If you do not wish to receive advertising, you have the right to object at any time. This also applies to profiling, insofar as it is in connection with such direct advertising. We will pay attention to this objection for the future.
